

Keio University Law School Symposium on University's Contribution toward “the Rule of Law Ubiquitous World”

Partner Universities

Hanoi Law University, University Economic and Law (Vietnam), Pannasastra University of Cambodia, National University of Laos, Thammasat University (Thailand), University of Yangon (Myanmar)

Date

21 November 2020 (Sat)
11:00~16:40 (Japan Time)

System

Zoom (Free on charge. Registration is necessary)
*The meeting address will be shared with participants.

Keio University Law School has collaborated with six partner universities in Mekong region countries (Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, Thailand, and Myanmar) to implement the Programs for Asian Global Legal Professions (PAGLEP) from 2016. These countries has highly developed and become the center of world market. Japan has developed a close relation with them. However, we are facing with difficult issues such as business conflicts, security problems, etc. on a global scale. PAGLEP aims at fostering legal professions who can solve those issues from global perspectives and promote the rule of law on a global scale for our common future.

In 2020, as a fifth-year milestone for the PAGLEP, we will discuss the role of universities in promoting the rule of law in the Asian dynamics to approach the Rule of Law Ubiquitous World. We also would like to explore the more sustainable cooperative community among universities on the basis of PAGLEP.

Program (English)

Part 1

Presentations from partner universities
Discussion

Part 2

“University's contribution to the rule of law promotion”

Registration

Keio Institute for Global Law and Development (KEIGLAD)

<https://wuke.jp/keiglad/entries/add/1>

