About the Dual Degree Program

- Keio University Law School (KLS) concluded a dual degree agreement (DD agreement) with
  - Hanoi Law University,
  - University of Economics and Law, and
  - Thammasat University Faculty of Law respectively.
- Each university may nominate up to two students as dual degree program students.

Features of the Dual Degree Program

- Dual degree program students can get two master degree from KLS and their home university.
- Students studying at KLS under the DD agreement are exempted from paying tuition to KLS as long as they pay tuition to their home university.

The difference between the tuition fee of your home university master program and the tuition fee of KLS will effectively function as a scholarship.

You can use the difference for covering living cost in Japan. It makes possible for DD students to study at a lower cost than if you were to apply directly to the KLS LL.M.

Eligibility for the dual degree program

- Master student of Hanoi Law University, University Economics and Law, or Thammasat University Faculty of Law.
- A student must have completed one semester of a master's course at his/her home university before coming to Keio Law School.
- Students must be nominated by his/her home university.

Study Model (Enroll in Keio Law School LL.M. from Spring Semester 2022)

How to Apply the Dual Degree Program?

- Those who wish to enroll in KLS based on the DD Agreement must apply for the KLS admission after receiving selection and nomination from a student's home university.
- This year, Application Period II (starting from October 2021) will be available.
- Possible enrollment timing may change by which admission you take.
  - ❑ Application Period II: April 2022 or September 2022
  - ❑ Application Period I : September 2022 or April 2023
- Note: Available scholarship may differ from the timing of admission and enrollment semester.
